

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations vii
 Preface ix

PART 1: THE AGE OF RECONNAISSANCE 3

To the heart of the Mongol Empire: Marco Polo (1271–95) 9
 The wanderings of Ibn Battuta (1325–55) 18
 Sailing west to America: Christopher Columbus (1492–1506) 30
 East to the Indies: Vasco da Gama (1497–9) 42
 A passage to the Pacific: Ferdinand Magellan (1519–22) 51
 Adventures in the Amazon: Francisco de Orellana (1541–6) 63
 The quest for the North-East Passage: William Barents (1594–7) 72
 Mutiny in the Arctic: Henry Hudson (1610–11) 83
 Looking for a North-West Passage: Luke Foxe and Thomas James (1631–2)
 96
 Colonizing the American wilderness: René La Salle (1669–87) 103

PART 2: THE AGE OF INQUIRY 119

Linking Russia and America: Vitus Bering (1725–42) 125
 Measuring the world: Charles-Marie de la Condamine (1735–45) 138
 In search of the Great Southern Continent: James Cook (1768–79) 149
 The conquest of Mont Blanc: Horace-Bénédict de Saussure (1760–88) 171
 Into the heart of South America: Alexander von Humboldt (1799–1803) 180
 The Great Trigonometrical Survey (1800–66) 190
 Across the American wilderness: Meriwether Lewis and William Clark
 (1803–6) 194
 Furthest into the Arctic: W. E. Parry (1818–27) 207
 Across Canada's Badlands: John Franklin (1818–25) 217
 The quest for the Niger: Hugh Clapperton and Richard Lander (1821–31)
 228
 The road to Timbuctoo: Gordon Laing and René Caillié (1824–8) 243
 Four winters in the Arctic: John Ross (1829–33) 256
 Charting the Antarctic: James Clark Ross (1839–43) 264
 The search for Franklin (1845–59) 271

PART 3: THE AGE OF ENDEAVOUR 289

Crossing the Australian continent: Robert Burke and William Wills
 (1860–1) 296
 The source of the Nile: Richard Burton and John Speke (1857–65) 308
 The conquest of the Matterhorn: Edward Whymper (1865) 316
 The Great Survey: The Pundits (1865–1902) 326
 Marooned off Greenland: Paul Hegemann and Karl Koldewey (1869–70) 331
 An Arctic drift: Charles Hall, George Tyson and the Polaris (1871–3) 336
 Across the dark continent: David Livingstone and H. M. Stanley (1871–7) 343
 The discovery of Franz Josef Land: Carl Weyprecht and Julius von Payer
 (1872–4) 353
 Britain's fight for the North Pole: George Nares (1875–6) 361
 A Siberian disaster: George De Long (1879–82) 367
 Tragedy on Ellesmere Island: Adolphus Greely (1881–4) 375
 Skiing to the North Pole: Fridtjof Nansen (1893–6) 385
 By balloon to the top of the world: Salomon Andrée (1897) 392
 Across the Sahara to the Congo: Fernand Foureau (1899–1900) 398
 Italy's northernmost: The Duke of Abruzzi (1899–1900) 404
 The Pole at last? Robert Peary and Frederick Cook (1908–9) 410
 The race for the South Pole: Robert Scott and Roald Amundsen (1911–12) 422
 Alone in the Antarctic: Douglas Mawson (1911–13) 432
 The Imperial TransAntarctic Expedition: Ernest Shackleton (1914–16) 444
 The conquest of Everest? George Mallory and Sandy Irvine (1924) 462
 By airship to the North Pole: Umberto Nobile (1928) 477

Bibliography 489

Index 495